Description:	SEFPRO is the only refractory group worldwide fully dedicated to and streamlined for offering top-of-the-line refractory solutions specifically to the glass industries. For nearly a hundred years, SEFPRO has played a key role in the evolution of the refractory offer available to glassmakers over the world, by relying on three major pillars: - Our refractory expertise, acquired through decades of deep collaboration with glassmakers to help them meet changing market demands. - Our innovation capability, thanks to continuous investment in Research and Development. - Our worldwide presence, ensuring proximity with our customers. Our industry is entering a new era. Beyond the sustainability imperative, glass must achieve carbon neutrality and circularity. As the leading refractory solution provider to the glass industry, SEFPRO must acknowledge its central role in these crucial challenges.
